Lord Jesus Christ,
you who are the light of the world and the King of heaven and earth, come to our help,
stretch out your hand over us, support who is tired and vacillating;
sustain who is sad and suffering, give solace to the wretched and sick, help the persecuted due to your name.

The grace we ask of you is the conversion of the hearts.

May everyone of us walk on you way with a rightful conscience.

Lord, Son of David, have mercy on us!

Do not abandon us!

Forgive our sins

and, with a tender and pure heart, moved by the Holy Spirit, we will feed on your Body and your Blood.

Sanctified by your grace, we will return the glory to our Father who is in heaven, to him who is saint, good, eternal, just and merciful.

With ecclesiastical approval and with partial indulgence every time one says it.

Nicastro, 5-5-1999

Oh Mary,
you who stayed under the cross of your Crucified Son Jesus, for your seven pains,
for your suffering,
intercede for me!
Do so that I really may look at the Cross of Jesus without sin.

Do so, oh Mary,
that my body turns away from sin.

Do so, oh Mary,
that my soul,
my heart be yours, all yours.

Oh Mary,
whenever my Father wants it,
I want to come to your light.
For this I want to be truly yours.

Oh Mary,
guide me on a good way: on the way of goodness and drive me away from evil.

Three Glory be to the Father Mother of the Redemption, pray for us

One gains partial indulgence every time he says it.
